

Allianz Global Intelligent Cities Income

While it is estimated that cities will contribute 80% of global growth over the next decade<sup>1</sup>, they are overburdened and facing numerous challenges.

Intelligent technological solutions help to make our cities more efficient and sustainable, providing a better quality of life, as well as greater opportunities, for those living and working in them. It is estimated that through the latest innovations, intelligent cities could cut energy usage and crime by 30%, and traffic delays and water loss by 20%.<sup>2</sup>

An estimated USD 7 trillion alone is expected to be spent by 2030 on intelligent ecosystems.<sup>1</sup> Allianz Global Intelligent Cities Income recognises this opportunity, investing across three key layers of innovation in cities:

1. Services: new digital apps and smart services to enhance the quality of everyday life in the city

2. Management: solutions for efficient management of assets and resources to improve quality and safety

3. Infrastructure: critical building blocks across next generation connectivity, buildings and clean energy

Combining fundamental research with a multi-asset approach, the investment team invests across the capital structures of innovative intelligent city companies with the aim of providing investors with stable income across market cycles, capital appreciation, and less volatility than a pure equity strategy.<sup>3</sup> They leverage their decades of experience of investing in technology, innovation, and multi-asset strategies.

Why Allianz Global Intelligent Cities Income

1. Capturing growth from the smart cities trend

Urbanisation and technological innovation are two of the four key megatrends that we identify as having the greatest impact on our future. Population growth is forcing city planners to think smarter. A thematic investing lens provides a way to capture this secular global growth opportunity.

2. A broad and diversified global opportunity set

More than 80% of global GDP comes from the world's cities, but they are facing numerous challenges as they grow. It is estimated that by 2030, over USD 7 trillion may be spent on modernising our cities with intelligent solutions across industries.<sup>1</sup>

3. Competitive income solution and total return profile

The fund invests in innovative companies across the capital structure using a unique multi-asset approach. The goal is to provide investors with a stable income stream and attractive equity market exposure, but with less volatility than a pure equity strategy.<sup>3</sup>

Past performance of the fund manager(s) and the fund is not indicative of future performance. Prices of units in the Fund and the income from them, if any, may fall as well as rise and cannot be guaranteed. Distribution payments of the Fund, where applicable, may at the sole discretion of the Manager, be made out of either income and/or net capital gains or capital of the Fund. As a result of the payment, the Fund's net asset value is expected to be immediately reduced. The dividend yields and payouts are not guaranteed and might change depending on the market conditions or at the Manager's discretion; past payout yields and payments do not represent future payout yields and payments. Investment involves risks including the possible loss of principal amount invested and risks associated with investment in emerging and less developed markets. The Fund may invest in financial derivative instruments and/or structured products and be subject to various risks (including counterparty, liquidity, credit and market risks etc.). Investing in fixed income instruments (if applicable) may expose investors to various risks, including but not limited to creditworthiness, interest rate, liquidity and restricted flexibility risks. Changes to the economic environment and market conditions may affect these risks, resulting in an adverse effect to the value of the investment. During periods of rising nominal interest rates, the values of fixed income instruments (including short positions with respect to fixed income instruments) are generally expected to decline. Conversely, during periods of declining interest rates, the values are generally expected to rise. Liquidity risk may possibly delay or prevent account withdrawals or redemptions.
