

Allianz US Short Duration High Income Bond

- Seeks to achieve income through monthly payouts
- Diversification to overall fixed-income allocation
- Proven investment capability in managing short duration, high-yielding assets

Allianz US Short Duration High Income Bond

The Fund focuses to generate a high level of current income with below-average market volatility by investing in high quality US non-investment grade credit with short maturity.

Attractive yield relative to duration

- Short duration high yield bonds provide investors the opportunity to generate high yield-like return with less risk.
- Investors have the most visibility on bond issuers' ability to service and repay their debts, thereby limiting default risks.

Less volatility and smaller drawdown

- Short duration high yield bonds are less sensitive to interest rate risk relative to longer duration bonds.
- High yield bonds tend to benefit from credit spread tightening in a falling rates environment; and higher coupon income help mitigate downside risk in a rising rates environment.

Diversification benefits

- Historically, short duration high yield bonds captured more than two times the return of core bond market return with comparable volatility.
- Adding short duration high yield bonds to a bond portfolio could help enhance returns and reduce risks.

Fund Features

Monthly dividends

The Fund aims to pay a monthly dividend.

Allianz US Short Duration High Income Bond Class AM (USD) Dis. – Monthly dividend per share

* The dividend per share is as at 31 January 2025. Past payout yields and payments do not represent future payout yields and payments. Historical payments may comprise of distributable income or capital, or both (for further details, please refer to our website). Dividend payments may, at the sole discretion of the Investment Manager, be made out of the Fund’s capital or effectively out of the Fund’s capital which represents a return or withdrawal of part of the amount investors originally invested and/or capital gains attributable to the original investment. This may result in an immediate decrease in the NAV per share and the capital of the Fund available for investment in the future and capital growth may be reduced. Dividend payments are applicable for Class AM Dis (monthly distribution) and for reference only but not guaranteed. Positive distribution yield does not imply positive return. For details, please refer to the Fund’s distribution policy disclosed in the offering documents.

Attractive risk/return profile

US high-yield bonds contribute from both a diversification and a relative-performance perspective, offering a very compelling yield opportunity with lower interest-rate sensitivity.

The Fund remains an attractive fixed income solution as investors adjust to tighter monetary conditions without taking excess credit risk. The shorter maturity puts securities first in line for repayment, and this reduces price volatility that may otherwise be amplified in passively managed funds.
